PINKERTON'S VERSION

Of the Late Massacre at Homestead.

ORDERS WERE NOT TO SHOOT

Strikers Issue an Address—The Old Workmen Evicted From Their Homes.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Robert Pinkerton made a lengthy statement today to the special committee investigating the Homestead troubles. Besides reviewing the history of his organization, he was required to answer a long list of questions which were proposed by representatives of the Knights of Labor.

His replies in substance were: That the barges on which his men went to Homestead were not constructed for the purposes of protection, not lined with iron or steel and could not resist small arms. The men would never have been allowed to start on such an expedition if it had been known that they were to be attacked by force at the landing. The barges were employed because it was believed the men would be able to land without a breach of the peace, and the landing was at night for the reason that the sheriff's force had been resisted in daytime. The sole desire was to avoid a breach of the peace, otherwise the men would not have been permitted to go unless authorized by the governor or deputized by the sheriff. The men would not have fired except as a matter of self defense. It was understood that the Carnegie company had applied to the proper legal authorities and that the men were going to Homestead with the approval of the sheriff.

Chairman Oates asked the witness what he had to say of the statement that 500 good soldiers could have scattered the Homestead mob, and that cowardice was shown by the Pinkertons.

Witness replied that he had talked with his men, and they said they could have taken possession of the works almost any time before 10 o'clock, but would have to kill men, women and children, and they would not do anything of the kind.

Boatner having asked how it was that trouble occurred when the strikers claimed they did not encourage violence and the Pinkertons were instructed not to use violence.

Pinkerton made the reply that hit squarely at the Knights of Labor representatives present. He said he had never seen a strike when labor organizations or their men had not abused non-union men. He had seen men knocked off trains; he had seen them beaten to a jelly; he had known members of this very Knights of Labor whose representatives were here to put obstructions on the tracks and dynamite under the cars; he had seen men who wanted to work treated worse than savages could have treated them by representatives of secret labor organizations.

William A. Pinkerton corroborated all his brother had said.

STRIKERS' ARGUMENT.

They Claim a Right in the Homestead Plant.

HOMESTEAD, July 22.—The strikers' advisory board issued an address to workmen and the public generally this morning.

The address calls attention to the tendency to concentrate business in the hands of a few men, giving them despotic power over employes who constitute the great mass of the people; instead of being right for an employer to manage his own business, it is coming to mean the right to manage the country. The employes of the Carnegie company at Homestead have built up the town, worked faithfully with the company, many years in the business of the mill, invested thousands of dollars of their savings in the mill in the expectation of working there as long as they were able work. The government taxes the county to foster this business, and the state of Pennsylvania is spending large sums to protect the mill.

Therefore the belief is expressed that the employes and the public have equal rights in those mills; that employes have the right to continuous employment without regard to religion, political or trades union affiliations; that the position of the company is unconstitutional, anarchistic, revolutionary and in contempt of public and private interests, and adds: "The committee wishes it known that we will prosecute said public and private interests in courts of law and equity, and we demand of congress and the state legislature distinct assertion of the principle that the public has an interest in such concerns as that at Homestead, and that the state has a duty to perform in judging affairs of such concern when occasion may require."

The address closes with a pledge to abstain from all violence and to rely on the courts for a remedy.

Will Start Up.

PITTSBURG, July 22.—The Carnegie company this morning began to carry out their expressed intention to put non-union men in the Homestead mills. The steamers Tide and Little Bill left with loads of new men this morning and will continue to make trips all day. From the number of men coming and going at the office of the company it looks as if the claim that the company has all the men necessary to start up the mills is true.

Looking for Men.

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—Some days ago an advertisement appeared in the local papers for puddlers, heaters and iron workers to go east. A union iron worker who applied in answer says the advertiser is an agent of the Carnegie company from Homestead. Men are wanted to take places in the mills there. The wages offered are from 15 to 40 cents a day higher than the strikers were receiving at the time of the lockout.

Others Strike.

HOMESTEAD, July 22.—A committee from Braddock says that those mills would strike to-morrow. The men announce that they will not go to work at the Duquesne mills until the Homestead men are settled and the Amalgamated Association recognized by Carnegie.

The strike was a surprise, as the Duquesne mill was supposed to be non-union, but it seems the strikers organized a lodge there within the past two weeks.

Sheriffs in Charge.

HOMESTEAD, July 22.—Owing to the increased friction between soldiers and strikers the governor, before leaving today, made arrangements which, it is hoped, will settle the trouble. A force of deputy sheriffs brought in from Pittsburg, together with the borough officers, will be placed in control, the only duty of the militia being to aid them when called upon.

To Lose Their Homes.

HOMESTEAD, July 22.—All old employes occupying houses owned by the company were served with eviction notices this morning. Under contract with the company they are obliged to deliver possession in ten days.

Charged With Murder.

HOMESTEAD, July 22.—Informations were made in Pittsburg today for murder against Peter Allen and Mathew Foy, both Homestead strikers.

DISBANDED.

The Idaho National Guard Sent Home.

WALLACE, July 22.—Governor Willey has received so many appeals from members of the Idaho national guard, now in the field, for furloughs and requests from members of the legislature for a return of the local companies, based on business interests, that orders have been issued for the return home of the state troops.

In relieving the battalion from duty at Wardner General Carlin says in his order: "The commandant of troops in the Coeur d'Alene country takes occasion to thank the Idaho troops for their good conduct at all times while under his command."

General Carlin and staff left Wardner this afternoon en route to Wallace, to confer with General Curtis on a number of matters pertaining to the prisoners under arrest. The retention of United States troops is believed to be a foregone conclusion, and already Wardner and Wallace are fighting for the location of the post.

The departure of the state troops will necessitate guards being furnished from the United States troops to convey prisoners to Boise.

Later—The order directing the withdrawal of the National Guards from Coeur d'Alene has been revoked and there is great discontent in camp tonight, as they were packed up and at the station ready to take the train. General Carlin's visit to Wallace today is believed to be associated with the issuance of the order recalling the guards.

Rumors are current that the National Guards will remain and the United States troops be relieved.

Out on Parol.

WALLACE, July 22.—About thirty prisoners were discharged to day from the military prison on parol. The most prominent among them were William Dillon, Robert Neill and J. H. Parker.

PERISHED.

Sad Fate of a Gold Searching Party.

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—Word has been received here from Campo that the bodies of S. J. Breedlove and a Pennsylvania capitalist named Fish, who left Campo on July 4th to prospect for gold in the desert, had been found in a canyon of the Cocopah mountains. No trace has been found of Breedlove's son, who was also one of the party.

The bodies were found close together, and from their appearance it was judged the men had been dead at least two weeks.

Under the scorching sun of the desert the bodies had decomposed rapidly and the searching party found it impossible to bring them in.

Two mules were found a short distance farther on, but no traces could be found of C. W. Breedlove and the third mule.

The bodies of Fish and Breedlove Sr. were found some forty miles east of Campo, and A. W. Jewell, who was the leader of the searching party, telegraphed that the only way the bodies can be brought in is to make up a party of five or six strong men who were used to hardships and provide them with strong wagons. Such a party will probably start from here soon.

Collins Captured.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—James Collins, alias Donnelly, the ex-convict who broke into H. Vartanian's jewelry store at Fresno last week and stole a tray containing forty rings, eleven watches and a diamond scarf pin, was arrested today in a room on Howard street by Officers Wren and Murray. Seven diamond rings and the stolen scarf pin were found in his possession. He was booked at the city prison on route to Fresno, where he will be taken for trial on the charge of burglary.

Reasons Returned.

WEAVERVILLE, July 22.—Gray, the mail carrier and contractor who wandered away from his home at Mount ranch about ten days ago, has been found in the Salmon river country. His mind suddenly cleared and he was not a little surprised to find that he had traveled 50 or 100 miles through an uninhabited country without being conscious of the fact. He is now well and at home, but looks as if he had seen a hard time. His wanderings are an entire cloud to him.

An Island Disaster.

THE HAGUE, July 22.—Official telegrams received here today from Balvia confirm the recent accounts of an awful destruction caused on the Great Sangir islands, belonging to Holland, by the volcanic eruption on June 17th. Advices are to the effect that the whole northwestern portion of the island is destroyed and 2000 inhabitants killed. Europeans were among the victims.

Loss, $10,000.

PETALUMA, July 22.—A grass fire which started on the Skiffington ranch today burned over 4000 acres and a lot of hay was burned. Loss, $10 000.

A WOULD-BE DALTON

Holds Up a Stockton Stage Driver,

AND MAKES A SMALL HAUL

He is Chased Over Field and Meadow, Then Surrenders Most Gracefully.

STOCKTON, July 22.—Great excitement was caused here this afternoon by the bold robbery of the Union Island stage about a mile outside the city limits, and the chase and capture of the robber after a long shooting match, in which Constable Carroll was shot in the left arm below the elbow, the ball shattering the bone and making a painful wound. It spent its force against a memorandum book in Carroll's pocket and hit his watch or he would have been killed, for it was fired from a Winchester.

The robber is a young man named Michael Cucovich, a waiter by occupation. He was raised here and has relatives in this city.

About eighteen months ago he was committed to an asylum and was discharged as cured a year ago. Since then he has seemed to be sane.

A week ago he purchased a new repeating rifle and Bowie knife here, saying that he was going into the mountains. Early this afternoon he went out on the French camp road a short distance from town, and waited for the two-horse stage running daily between this city and Union island.

Jimmy Hooper was driving and had as passengers two young men from Modesto, Rubin May and Isaac Pledger.

The robber stood on the side of the road inside of one of the rail fences, and when the stage driver drove up he leveled his rifle at the driver and ordered him to stop.

Hooper thought the man joking, but he obeyed a second command and Cucovich then made the driver and passengers turn their pockets inside out and toss their money on the ground, then demanded the driver's fine gold watch and got it. The driver saved $200 in his purse by placing the money in his waistband, and Passenger May saved $20 by holding it in the palm of his hand.

The robber ordered the driver to go ahead, then picked up the plunder and started across the grain fields, circling around to the south and east of this city. The driver tied his team and giving the alarm to the people living near by, borrowed a saddle horse and gave chase.

One passenger remained with the stage and the other rode to town and notified the officers. Several gave chase to the robber across the fields, but kept a safe distance, as he carried his rifle.

A dozen police officers, constables and deputy sheriffs took up the chase, and soon the fleeing robber had a dozen or more men following him.

He turned occasionally and shot at his pursuers, but did not hit one until he was surrounded near a slaughter house east of the city, three miles from the scene of the robbery. He shot twenty-six times at the officers, but only one took effect, and that struck Constable Carroll. The officers shot at him with pistols, but could not reach him.

Finally, after considerable shooting, Cucovich came out of a bunch of tules in the bed of a stream, and holding up his arms surrendered.

Detective Simpson was the first to reach the fellow, and as he did so Cucovich raised his knife to slash the officer, but Officers Marshall and Sawyer and Deputy Sheriff Black closed in and disarmed him after a short struggle, when he was handcuffed and brought to jail.

The coin taken from the driver and passengers, about $6, and Hooper's gold watch were recovered. Cucovich had on a belt of cartridges, and several charges were left in his gun.

The prisoner was defiant at the jail and very angry at being searched, and showed his desperate character a number of times.

Going Ahead Now.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The Oakland team again defeated the San Francisco's today by a score of 9 to 5. Errors and bunched hittings gave the Colonel's 6 runs in the second inning, and that virtually settled the game. The batteries were Fanning and Spies, German and Wilson. Base hits, San Francisco 13, Oakland 10; errors, San Francisco 6, Oakland 7.

San Jose—Los Angeles 5, San Jose 6.

A County Blaze.

YREKA, July 22.—A fire which originated in Wadsworth's butcher shop today destroyed the shop, Cleland's warehouse and contents, part of Rynes' store and the postoffice, together with Pashbury's warehouse, the bedspring factory and a number of other buildings. Loss $30,000, partially insured. During the excitement a case containing jewels valued at $1000 was taken from J. H. Wadsworth.

New Ministers.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Confirmations were made of Andrew D. White of New York as minister to Russia, A. L. Snowden of Pennsylvania as minister to Spain, Truxton Beale of California as minister to Greece, Roumania and Servia.

Decidedly Hot.

ST. PAUL, July 22.—A hot wave covers nearly the entire northwest, the temperature ranging at different points from 90 to 101. The hot weather is helping grain greatly, and another immense crop is assured.

CLEVELAND AND THE PLATFORM.

It has been announced and denied that the radical free trade plank in the Chicago platform, which denounces a protective tariff as unconstitutional, was objectionable to Mr. Cleveland and his managers.

This question has now been set at rest by the utterances of Mr. Cleveland himself in his formal address of acceptance. He took occasion to state in that speech, and it was intended as a matter of course to be a declaration to the people of the United States of his attitude on that particular feature of the platform, that they need not attack the constitutionality of the tariff. He further declared that the Democratic party would not be recklessly heedless of any American interest, nor abandon its regard for them. It is plainly evident that Mr. Cleveland intended to make it known that he is not in accord with the radical views expressed in the tariff plank, which was fairly forced upon the convention by Henry Watterson and the southern wing of the party in substitution for the graceful straddle of the question which was submitted by the platform committee.

Mr. Cleveland has been for a number of years posing before the country as the original and genuine Moses of tariff reform, but he is none the less very much averse to submitting his cause to the American people on the unequivocal free trade declaration that protection is unconstitutional. The question again arises, as it has before, is Mr. Cleveland greater than his party, and is the party bound by his or its own public declarations?

Henry Watterson and his followers in the free trade faith were evidently not inspired by a sincere political affection for Mr. Cleveland when they forced this radical plank on the convention. They openly questioned the sincerity and courage of Mr. Cleveland on the question of "tariff reform," and being unable to prevent his nomination undoubtedly took a mean advantage of their opportunity to put the free trade manacles on him without asking his consent. Mr. Cleveland has, however, with a refreshing disregard for party authority, declined to be handcuffed, and says that there is no need to attack the constitutionality of the tariff. The way was nicely paved for the Watterson element to accomplish their designs on Mr. Cleveland's peace of mind by the particularly flagrant character of the straddling plank submitted by the committee. It was a shameless evasion of the question, entitled to all the furious denunciation of cowardice heaped upon it, and made it all the easier for the free traders to get nearly anything they might ask for as a substitute.

If Mr. Cleveland is right on this question his party is wrong, but which shall the people look to for their inspiration and guidance? The platform of a party is supposed to be the promise of that party to the people of what its conduct will be if intrusted with power. When the candidate takes issue with the platform, who shall decide by which the party shall be bound?

Mr. Watterson's free trade plank is playing the deuce.

COMMENTING on the demagogic remarks of ex-President Cleveland on the relations of the Homestead riot to the tariff, the Chronicle says: "Grover Cleveland will search the annals of labor troubles in vain for another instance of a strike based on the complaint of men who are receiving from $4 to $16 a day in wages and who are willing to work on a sliding scale so long as the wages go up, but who stand ready to commit outrages of various kinds, and even murder, when they go down. It sounds well to talk of the 'tender mercy the workingmen receive' in view of the brutality inflicted by these same workingmen upon the Pinkerton men after their surrender under definite promises of protection. It being generally supposed that a candidate for President of the United States should be a man of broad and liberal views, and strictly fair and just, if not a statesman, Grover Cleveland by this speech has set the seal upon his own condemnation. It is the speech of a narrow-minded, prejudiced, would-be cunning partisan politician, who will spare no effort to make the worse appear the better reason. It might fit a sheriff of Buffalo, but it is grossly unbecoming a candidate for the highest position in the gift of the greatest nation in the world."

THE Bulletin says that the tin-horn Examiner has attempted to show how the tariff on tin plate affects California farmers, fruit growers and fishermen. It figures this by adding 1 1-5 cents to each pound of tin plate which it finds to have been imported at the port of San Francisco. The 1 1-5 cents is the increase in the duty. If our people had borne the increase in the duty there would be some reason in the "tin horn" figures, but the fact happened to be that the Welsh makers have borne most of it, as the story of the cut in Welsh prices clearly shows. The "tin horn" has a great deal to say about the canning and packing businesses, which it alleges are being crushed by the tin plate tariff. It probably forgets that these industries have been built up under protection. It can appreciate their value after they have been established by Republican policy, but cannot appreciate the work of establishing the new, but equally promising, tin plate industry. The Examiner is an editorial freak.

THERE is not very much justice, or even common sense, in the custom tolerated in some of the Fresno courts of allowing lawyers to browbeat, blackguard and insult witnesses and parties to actions. The terms "ruffian," "liar," "scoundrel" and so forth come so glibly from the mouths of some lawyers as if they were making a quotation from the statute. Suppose a witness to whom one of these terms had been applied should retort by calling the lawyer a "liar," or a "scoundrel" or a "dead beat;" there would not be the slightest doubt that the court would be shocked and impose a fine upon the layman for the sacrilege. An attorney has no more right to be a bully in court than has a witness or other layman.

THE opinion is expressed in some quarters that the raisin packers have outgeneraled the growers in getting the proviso in the agreement that 25 per cent of the growers must enter into the compact in order to make it binding. If this opinion proves well founded the growers should lose no time in remedying their mistake, if it be possible to do so.

WHAT has become of Dave Neagle? He ought to be in demand for the leadership of one of the rival political factions in Fresno.—Stockton Mail.

Neagle has the reputation of being a brave and a successful gun fighter in the ordinary meaning of the term, but perhaps Mr. Neagle even would not be anxious to enlist in a shotgun campaign.

MADERA is becoming ambitious to be the capital of a new county. The movement is premature at present, but in the course of a few years, when the county's population has doubled, Madera will without doubt become the county seat of one of the star counties of the San Joaquin valley.

THE Mid-Day Sun is the name of a new daily paper at Modesto, published by Turner & Andrews. It is a small luminary at present, but bright and pleasing in appearance.

THEORY OF TAXATION

Thoughtful Address at Sanger by George E. Church.

ABSURDITIES IN THE LAW

How It is Twisted and Frittered Away By Judges of Cast Iron Mind.

The following is an extract from a thoughtful address delivered last Thursday night by George E. Church of this city before the Farmers' Institute meeting at Sanger:

Both by the constitution of our state (section 1, article 13) and by the Political Code (section 3607) all property in this state not exempt under the laws of the United States, excepting growing crops, property used for public schools and such as may belong to the United States, this state or any county or municipal corporation within this state, must be taxed.

By section 3617, Political Code, property is declared to include moneys, credits, notes, stocks dues, franchises and all other matters and things, real, personal and mixed, capable of private ownership, and by section 3627 all taxable property must be assessed at its full cash value.

Property exempt under the laws of the United States by the act of congress passed June 6, 1884, includes United States bonds, United States coupons, national currency, United States notes, treasury notes, fractional notes, checks for money of authorized officers of the United States, certificate of deposit of deposit of the United States, and every other representative of value, including, of course, greenbacks, national bank notes and everything of that kind which have been or may be issued under act of congress. And the supreme court has added to this imported merchandise in original packages.

One of the most trying evils in the matter of securing equal taxation and, of course, an equal distribution of public burdens, of the burden of supporting government, is the ease with which the taxpayer may escape the payment of his tax. The amount of delinquent tax is simply enormous. The honest taxpayers have rights, one of the most prominent of which rights is the right to have the delinquent compelled to become a taxpayer also.

The courts, not only of our state but of all states, seem to be in league with the delinquent to enable him to escape his just proportion of the governmental expense. By any and every, even the most frivolous pretext and excuse, he is relieved. As you well know, the only method we have now of enforcing the collection of a tax is by distraint and sale of the property. Once it was enforced by an armed body. In the earlier English times torture was not only measurably but frequently exercised to compel the disclosure of property to be assessed and the payment of taxes.

In the Roman times the taxes were largely farmed out, that is, the collection let to the highest bidder. Suppose, for instance, that on a particular province the tax of $100,000 was levied or imposed and the collection of it desired, the contract is put up to the highest bidder.

Verres could well afford to pay, and often did pay $100,000 for the privilege of collecting it; as, for example, the taxes from the oppressed people of Cicily. The extortion, outrage and indignities practised by him and his armed mob in the collection of those taxes, not simply the $100,000, but the millions which he extorted, are something too appalling to be contemplated.

We read of it now in the bitter Philipic of Cicero in his great oration against Verres with amazement and even horror. Modern civilization, it is true, does not permit of this. Direct torture is not permitted. But we can see that indirect torture under our system is still practised. But, any way, the remedy by distraint and sale, particularly by reason of the action of court in protecting delinquents, has become inadequate and a practical failure. This, more than anything else, has imposed an additional and crushing burden upon the honest taxpayer.

In the matter of the collection of taxes an innumerable series of steps by a large number of officers have to be taken. The law is complicated; and if in any particular there is an irregularity, it is always sufficient to prevent the enforcement of the collection of the tax by sale of property. From the valuation of the property for taxation to its distraint and sale for non-payment, those innumerable steps, or many of them at least, are required to be taken by a multitude of officials, most of whom it is said, are incompetent for their task.

A party refuses to pay; he goes into court to stop the enforcing by injunction or to quiet the title to his property after the sale for non-payment of the taxes and the court takes up the proceedings, and if it can, by any means, find even the slightest technical irregularity by some complicated proceeding, it never fails to find on it and to declare the sale invalid and relieve the delinquent entirely from responsibility.

The omission of the dollar mark as a prefix to the figures representing the value of the property has been declared to be fatal. In our state in the case of James M. Braly, formerly a resident of Fresno City, against Victor Seaman, it is held that an assessment of real estate in which for the value of the same, certain figures are written with nothing in connection therewith to show that they represent the quantity or sum is void and a tax deed based on the assessment is also void. Now, in this case of Braly's the assessment is in every respect perfectly legal but the amount which represented the total tax, towit: 30.30, although written in a column at the head of which was a dollar mark, but the dollar mark not being used in connection with the 30.30, it was held that it was void.

As the court says, in the column headed with the words "Value of real estate" there were written certain Arabic numerals with nothing in connection therewith to represent the sum of anything whatever, which omission renders the assessment totally invalid.

Although there is no pretense that any injury resulted, no possible pretense that any person, much less the tax delinquent, Mr. Braly, or any other person above the age of 10 years, could possibly be misled thereby, or has any possible doubt as to what was made or intended, yet the whole proceeding is voided, Mr. Braly is excused from the assessment of his tax upon this mere technicality and the burden consequently has to fall upon others who are more willing to pay.

The New York commissioners, some of the most intelligent men of the country speak in their great report as follows: "One of the greatest obstacles which stand in the way of reform on taxation has been the general acceptance of the theory that in order to fix equitably and uniformly, and to distribute the burden equally, it is necessary to subject all property to assessment; and more especially that the exemption of many from what is termed money capital is to grant a favor to those who possess such property and are best able to bear taxation, at the expense of the remaining and poorer of the community."

The commissioners, however, utterly disregard this theory, properly termed a theory, for no country or state ever fully attempted to execute it and to hold in opposition that equality of taxation consists in a uniform assessment of the same articles or class of property that is subject to taxation. And they further maintain that all taxes equate and diffuse themselves, and that if levied with certainty and uniformity upon tangible property and fixed classes of property, there will be diffusion and repercussion reached and burden all visible and also all invisible property with unerring certainty and equality.

A little thought teaches the absolute correctness of this view, just as the sun appears, although it appears to our senses to rise and set and move, and not the earth, so a tax, a particular tax appears to fall upon another class, when in reality it is not so.

A QUESTION ANSWERED.

Justice Crichton on the Rights of Witnesses.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—In yesterday morning's issue of your paper there appeared a communication from William Farrow in which he portrays a scene in my court and asks "Has a witness any rights a lawyer should respect?" As this seems to be asked in sincerity I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to attempt to give the gentleman the desired information—not as an apology, but my understanding of the law governing the arguments of attorneys in court.

They can comment on the testimony and draw any conclusion which seems to them reasonable. Mr. Terry, in making his argument to me for the introduction of certain testimony, did not at any time class J. W. Scott as a liar or a perjurer, but sought the introduction of certain testimony for the purpose of proving Mr. Scott a liar and a perjurer.

Had Mr. Terry called Mr. Scott a perjurer or a liar he would have been summarily dealt with, but his argument wherein he used the supposed offensive language was addressed to the court only, and was a statement of what he proposed to prove if permitted to introduce the testimony of Mr. Van Meter.

Occurrences of this kind to those unacquainted with the rules, I can readily see, might be considered by them punishable, but as a matter of fact I have no power so to do. I have and do throw every safeguard around a witness I know of, except, of course, when I think a witness is trying to conceal the truth, then I allow much latitude.

W. D. CRICHTON, J.P.

GRAPES FOR BRANDY.

A Statement by a Grower on That Proposition.

Captain J. De St. Hubert has published the following card in the Pacific Wine and Spirit Review on the question of selling the second crop of Muscat grapes for wine and brandy manufacture:

Under "A Wrecking Proposition," I read what you have to say "against" the raisin men making Muscat wine and brandy, but I fail to read what is to be done to help them in their case. It is very well to say "don't do so" but until you find a remedy their own is to prevail.

"There are many ways of using the Muscat grapes and many do not know how. If they know they have not the plant for it, and I doubt if the raisin men are desirous of building wineries, let them sell their Muscats to wineries and let us instruct the wine makers in the best way to dispose of these grapes. Less bad wines will be made and superior brandies will be produced instead of bad ones.

A TERRIBLE SCANDAL

Country Society Agitated to Its Lowest Depths.

MUCH BLOOD MAY BE SHED

The Accused Parties Made a Statement Embracing Even the Most Minute Details

Society in Dos Palos is convulsed with internal strife.

It appears that a donation supper was tendered Mrs. Hyde in the hotel, and after the affair was over some discontented persons started a report that the parties having the management of the affair had appropriated what was left of the feast.

The war of gossip waged so fiercely that the accused persons found it necessary to publish the printed circular of which a copy is given below. It is about the finest example on record of mistaking "the rustic cackle of their burg for the great wave that rolls around the world":

To the public or whom it may concern.—The disposition of the donations for the supper at the Hydalia Hotel on Tuesday evening, July 12, 1892, having been made a matter of public discussion, placing the undersigned in an uncreditable position, we hereby make the following statements:

Five gallons of milk were collected Tuesday forenoon; 23 eggs donated and 4 dozen purchased, of these 15 were spoiled, leaving 4⅓ dozen. About 4 pounds of sugar and half a bottle of lemon extract were donated. 50 pounds of ice was furnished by Mr. Christian. One sack of salt came from Mr. Weitz, and Hyde and Woodruff furnished equal quantities of additional salt. The above provided a five gallon tin and a one gallon freezer of ice cream, disposed of as follows:

All used on the evening of the party with the exception of about 3 quarts left in the freezer which was sent over to Mrs. Hyde Wednesday morning, and at the same time a dish full was given to Fred Williams (who offered to donate towards the party) and a bowl sent to Mr. Jus Foreman and children who through sickness was unable to attend. A little was also sent out the night of the party to Mrs. Fred Mikkelson. NONE of these two lots of cream or any of the donations were retained or used by the undersigned.

A few of the guests brought various amounts of milk and cream late in the evening which was not used for cream but disposed of as follows: One or two of the ladies gave theirs to Mrs. Woodruff, the balance was put into a large kettle (borrowed from Mrs. Hyde to make the cream in) and sent to Mrs. Hyde Wednesday forenoon.

Mrs. Woodruff made and donated TWO CAKES and NONE WHATEVER WAS KEPT BY THE UNDERSIGNED. All that we had of the cake provided for the party was a few pieces kindly brought in a napkin to our house by Mrs. Dr. R. J. Hoyle and handed to us in the presence of Mrs. Hyde and others.

Mr. Christian in addition to furnishing the ice insisted Wednesday morning that Mrs. Woodruff take 50 cents to pay for gasoline and extract used, she finally took it stating that she would pay for 1½ dozen eggs, which she did, paying Geo. Weitz in the presence of a number of gentlemen. This was ALL the money that was donated and NOT $3 as rumored.

Mrs. Modearis' screw top can, said to have been stowed away in our house, was used to take ice cream to Mrs. Mikkelson, was left there and only returned the latter part of the week by Mrs. Lillyard.

Resume: Mrs. Woodruff and Mrs. Weitz collected 5 gallons of milk. Mrs. Woodruff and Mrs. Foreman made the ice cream for the party, the undersigned providing the necessary quarters and cooking arrangements. EVERYTHING donated to or made Mrs. Hyde and her party was so used or turned over to her.

As to private affairs publicly discussed: The milk given to Mrs. Woodruff was skimmed and, with some sour cream saved previous to the party, put into a small churn and produced a piece of butter about the SIZE OF A HEN'S EGG!

The skimmed milk, two eggs and some sugar, ALL OWNED BY THE UNDERSIGNED were put into Mrs. Hoyle's freezer and frozen with ice furnished by F. M. Rahm, of whom we purchased 30 pounds for 25 cents; in verification of this we refer to him as he also tasted this last made cream and knows it was different from that made for the party.

As to money and private matters between undersigned and Mr. Hyde the public will fully appreciate the fact that such business affairs were of no possible concern to them.

The remarks reflecting upon the management of the Colonian and some of its patrons will be answered in their proper place.

It is unfortunate that in doing honor to an anniversary occasion of a resident of Dos Palos, the honor of other residents should be involved thereby and that this statement should be made necessary.

We leave it for the public or those interested to decide the merits or demerits of the case. Respectfully submitted,

MR. AND MRS. L. B. WOODRUFF.

COLONEL SMUTZ.

Notes of a Trip On the West Side.

WHAT HE SAW IN THAT PLACE

Incandescent Lights in a Village Hotel—The Dos Palos Scandal. A Growing Country.

Special Correspondence of The Republican.

LOS BANOS, July 20.—I arrived at this growing town this morning and found it a very neat little place of about 200 inhabitants, though none of them were out to receive me.

I found the chief hotel in the town without going astray. It is a substantial brick building of three stories. I managed to get my name upon the register in legible characters the same as other noted visitors to the town.

This hotel has all the modern improvements; that is, the candlestick is not in it, from the fact that I could not find it, nor a lamp in the room when it came time to light up. After a careful search by the aid of a match the incandescent electric light bulb was discovered, and by the turn of the button it bloomed.

Looking around the room at the furnishing I beheld a perfect little parlor with Brussels carpet on the floor. I looked out to see if there were street cars going by the door and to ascertain if I had got into the wrong town.

This is the finest hotel in the state for its size. The water and electric light are furnished by Miller & Lux, who have erected a fine plant for the purpose. Harry Thornton is the proprietor of the hotel and can justly be proud of it.

J. A. Worthington is the judge and legal light of the town.

A BUSY MAN.

H. G. Tanner is the busiest man in town, rising at 4 in the morning and setting at 11 at night. He is resident manager for Miller & Lux's immense interests in the county.

Miller & Lux have a large general merchandise store. G. E. McFadden, at one time with A. F. Baker in Fresno, but later of Madera, is manager.

The town was in somewhat of a bustle today, preparing for the races tomorrow at the racetrack. J. Gardner and H. G. Gardner, being two of the principal officials of the racing association, were doing the most of their speeding between town and the track.

It was reported here today that the railroad eating house at Lathrop, with sandwiches and other chattels, was attached yesterday and closed up.

THE RAILROAD IMPUDENT.

Here is a sample of railroad rates: I paid $3.60 to ride from Fresno to Newman last week. In going back I paid $1.05 from Newman to Los Banos, $1.85 from the latter to Mendota, and $1.70 from Mendota to Fresno, making $4.60 for the return trip. The difference, 70 cents, is enough to pay for the printing bill of 500 such tickets.

REPUBLICAN SUBSCRIBERS.

Berthold & Broder are the druggists and newsdealers of this place, and will see that the following enterprising business men of Los Banos get the Daily REPUBLICAN and the news first each day, viz.: G. E. McFadden, A. Zotto, Joseph Harriemandy, Harry Thornton, W. J. Stockton, J. Gardner, Commercial hotel, F. Bonillas, J. A. Worthington, A. W. Drummond & Co., H. G. Tanner, Berthold & Broder.

The Commercial hotel is not a business man, but the proprietor is one whose name I did not get.

A TULARE CAPITALIST.

People are arriving here each day looking for investments. Last week when I was here a Tulare capitalist or speculator arrived in town and went at once negotiating for corner lots. When he had been satisfied in this regard he went to the hotel, the time being 11 o'clock a.m.

"How much you charge for a bed?"

Fifty cents was the price, and after registering his autograph, and Tulare's likewise, he informed the clerk that he would like to go to the room and rest.

Being asked if he did not want dinner the clerk fell up three steps of the stairway on being informed by the Tulare capitalist that he had his own "friedt" chicken and "bredt."

Speculation is rife as to what corner clothing will be sold on.

Los Banos is going to be one of the best towns on the West Side. The surrounding country I cannot write of, not having the opportunity of going out to examine it.

AT MENDOTA.

MENDOTA, July 21.

En route from Los Banos to Mendota I beheld a large crowd at Dos Palos waiting for the train, and I was very fearful that some one had by telegram palmed me off as a celebrated character to them and that a speech would be called for.

I was very much exercised from the fact that I had just heard a week before to "Wamba" at Newman my patent adjustable speech introductory and it had not been returned, or was knocked out.

My fears were soon allayed on learning that a bride and groom were there to get on the train, and Dr. Hyde and the balance of the populace were there to see them off.

BRIDAL GIFTS.

After dodging some old shoes and white pellets, which proved to be rice, I settled down to business and ventured out of my supposed private coach to inquire the cause of the invasion. Cause—J. W. Williams of Dos Palos and Florence Limb of Fresno were married that day and the populace had turned out to see them off to Fresno. The car looked like a Chinese junk house after the ovation.

Old shoes ranging in size from a number 1 to 5 were scattered throughout the car and well sprinkled with rice (not cooked), a deed had company the balance of the way.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ross and their son J. B. Ross and wife also got on the train, bound for their old home in Iowa. Mr. Ross senior is very much smitten with California and may return and purchase a large body of land.

THE DOS PALOS SCANDAL.

A burning question at Dos Palos is: "Who got away with the donations?" One of the citizens and his wife took pains to get out a circular to say they "never touched it."

Parties having in charge the location of families in the country sourrounding Dos Palos have injured the place very much by locating a number upon alkali land and many have quit the country in consequence. There is fine land in the same tract.

ITS BUSINESS.

Mendota is a town with no population to speak of, though the division point of the West Side system between Tracy and Goshen. There is a hotel, three restaurants, two residences, a freight car as a habitation, and a livery stable. There is a fine depot and round house. Mrs. L. J. Mitchell is the proprietress of the hotel and livery stable. Nutter & McIntire have a restaurant, also Mrs. Smith.

Frank Mortimer, who has been agent here, has been changed to Niles and his assistant, Ed Stockton, will take the agency here. This place is thirty-four miles from Fresno and is two miles north of White's Bridge.

It is the great hunting and fishing ground of the West Side. Doves are here in abundance and the Miller & Lux dam is but two miles distant, where fish can be caught at all hours of the day. Ed Austin of Fresno, who has a run on the passenger from Bakersfield, does the hunting and fishing act each time he is here. Mendota may have many hunters and fishermen during the year.

KERN COUNTY LIARS.

THEY HAVE STARTED TO WORK AGAIN AT THEIR TRADE.

A Refutation of Their Statement That Fresno Has Secured Kern Fruits for Exhibition.

The following roorback started at Bakersfield has been going the rounds of the country press:

AH THERE, FRESNO.

One of Fresno's most enterprising citizens was delegated to obtain a number of Kern county peaches for an exhibit at the World's Fair as a product of Fresno county. At early morn he drove out to C. A. Maul's orchard and wanted to contract for his entire crop of Orange cling and Late George cling peaches. Failing in this, he tried to secure 1000 pounds of the choicest peaches, but Mr. Maul declined to sell at any price after he knew they were to represent Fresno county at the World's Fair.

He then applied to S. W. Wible, the owner of the celebrated Wible orchard. Mr. Wible, upon his representation that they were wanted for a Fresno cannery, made the sale of 1000 pounds, but refused to sell the whole crop. Whether the goods will be delivered or not is a question, now that the object of his mission is known."

Members of the Fresno County World's Fair commission deny the statement in toto and say that all the fruit and other exhibits have been secured by themselves and from Fresno county alone. The Kern county newspapers should give the name of the peach-buying ghost in order that his body may be resurrected from the limbs of Hardon in which the Kern Munchausens have buried it.

THE DRUM CORPS.

They Serenade General Muller and The Republican.

The drum corps, under the leadership of Drum Major Scott, serenaded Brigadier General Muller last night at the general's residence, on the corner of K and Tuolumne streets.

The full corps of fifers and drummers were present and were hospitality received by the general and Majors Woodworth and Wright. Champagne and speeches popped and fizzed and the boys were exceedingly happy.

The general promised that he would do his best to entertain the corps at Santa Cruz on the occasion of the encampment next month. He expressed the hope that they would represent Fresno in a manner creditable to themselves and to the military companies of which they were members.

Drum Major Scott made a happy response, and the corps entertained the company with selections on the banjo and guitar and with songs, winding up with "Home, Sweet Home."

The corps then proceeded to THE REPUBLICAN office and gave a serenade, closing with "In the Gloaming, O, My Darling." Champagne and ink were opened with liberal hands, and three cheers and a tiger (not the Tammany breed) were given for THE REPUBLICAN.

The corps will play at the head of the regiment from the train to the camp ground. They will also appear for inspection here next Wednesday night.

ERNEST SAWYER.

The Sad Fate of a Former Resident of Fresno.

Ernest Sawyer, a 16-year-old boy, formerly a resident of Belmont addition to this city, was drowned recently in Anaheim.

The following account of the accident is taken from an Anaheim paper:

"Ernest Sawyer, a boy 16 years old, was drowned Thursday afternoon about 5 o'clock while bathing with a companion in a slough near Judge Pierce's land, about three miles west of here. It appears that young Sawyer stepped into a deep hole in the lagoon and sank. The other boy tried to reach him, but was afraid to venture too near the hole and finally ran for help. Some men arrived on the scene as quickly as possible, but when the body was recovered life was extinct. Coroner Ely was at once notified and held an inquest Thursday night, the verdict being accidental death. Young Sawyer's parents live in Oakland and they have been notified of the sad accident, and the body was embalmed for shipment to them."

After long and careful trial of others, I prefer Cleveland's Baking Powder for several reasons. . .

Cleveland's is a pure cream of tartar and soda mixture, not containing alum or ammonia or any other substance deleterious to the human stomach.

Cakes, muffins, biscuits, &c., in which Cleveland's Baking Powder is used, keep better. . .

BORING FOR GAS.

A NEW ENTERPRISE TO BUILD UP FRESNO.

Arrival of Two Expert Well Borers to Tap the Artesian and Hydrogen Strata.

Alexander Tickel and his brother Hiram are visiting the city for the purpose of prospecting for artesian water and natural gas.

They believe that both may be found in and around this city at a depth of 1500 feet. Such a discovery would be of incalculable benefit to the manufactories of this city at present existing and to be established. With natural gas the population of Fresno would more than double in five years.

Twenty miles west of this city there are three artesian wells, averaging 680 feet deep, and with a flow of four miner's inches above the top of the casing. Twenty-two miles west of Fresno is an artesian well that yields natural gas. There is also a flow of gas from a well between Hanford and Huron.

If the Tickel brothers succeed in getting capital interested in their enterprise they will import a newly invented boring plant, with a boring capacity of 300 feet in ten hours when driven by a 40-horse power engine.

MRS. M'DENNO PLEADS GUILTY

She Asks That Her Landlady Be Arrested.

Mary McDenno, who was arrested night before last for battering her landlady, Mrs. Tufts, appeared before Justice Crichton yesterday morning.

She pleaded guilty and was fined $7.50, which she paid. She stated she struck Mrs. Tufts because she said that she seen a man come from her (McDenno's) room early in the morning.

Mrs. McDenno asked that a warrant be issued for the arrest of Mrs. Tufts, who, she claimed, had so grossly slandered her.

She was told to consult the district attorney. She did so, but found that slander was not a criminal offense.

DEATH BY DROWNING.

Young Burris Wades Beyond His Depth and Sinks.

Last Wednesday a young son of David Burris, who lives near Traver, was drowned in the Kings river.

The lad was about 11 years old, and he and several companions were out hunting.

They were wading in the waters of the river, and young Burris unaware got in the water beyond his depth.

His companions were all too small to render any assistance and so the boy drowned. His body was soon taken from the water, but could not be resuscitated.

Mr. Burris is an extensive land owner of Tulare county.

FARMER'S SUPPER

GIVEN BY THE M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, LADIES.

A Pleasant Evening Spent at Dr. T. R. Meux's—The Attendance Large.

A "farmers' supper" was given last night on the lawn of Dr. T. R. Meux by the young ladies of the M. E. church south. An admission fee was charged, the proceeds being added to the organ fund.

The lawn surrounding the doctor's handsome and spacious residence on the corner of R and Tulare streets, is just the place for this kind of a party, and large as the attendance was there was room for all.

A soft glow was shed over the verandas and lawn by a number of Chinese lanterns, and the scene reminded one something of a night in Seville.

No program was rendered, and every one had to depend on his own exertions for amusements, which is after all the best way to conduct a social of any kind. The hospitable doctor also threw his house open to the guests, and music was furnished by any one willing to play on the doctor's excellent piano.

The supper was served in the children's play ground. It was probably called a farmers's supper, because it was to be consumed by city people. However that was, it certainly was a good supper and those who sat at the festive board brought sharp appetites to bear upon it.

The festers were waited upon by the young ladies of the church, who looked appetizing enough to be eaten themselves, though that was fortunately rendered unnecessary by the great quantity of other delicacies.

A very pleasant evening was spent by all present, and the proceeds from the entertainment were large.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Several Assessments Reduced by It Yesterday.

Several petitions for a reduction in assessments were granted yesterday by the supervisors, sitting as a county board of equalization.

The assessment on J. M. Braly's property was reduced from $26,250 to $23,000.

C. L. Taylor's petition for a reduction was granted so far as related to the improvements on lots 29 to 32, block 80, from $800 to $300; but his petition for other reductions was denied.

T. P. Nelson was granted a reduction on his lands from $15 an acre to $7.50.

The supervisors allowed Charles Bullock $12 per month, and Mrs. Isaac Barker $20, the expense of taking the Mayfield children to the orphan asylum at Vallejo.

Tennessee Camp.

"We belong to the numerous 'Tennessee family' of Fresno," said one of the young ladies. "We don't hold any office, but we should like to." Camp Tennessee consists of J. W. Reese and daughters, Misses Minnie T. Reese and Sophie A. Reese, Louis Brandt, Fresno; Mrs. W. B. Reese and Miss Alice Reese, Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Reese and daughters visited Yosemite last season. He spends most of his time fishing and supplies the camp daily with trout.—Yosemite Tourist.

Wright D. Bresee's Sack.

Wright D. Bresee has been appointed by State Controller Colgan as special agent for the collection of delinquent state taxes in Fresno county. He will at once proceed to collect by suit or otherwise all delinquent state taxes due from 1873 to the present time.

His commission has been fixed at 15 per cent. The total amount due is believed to be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Pyke is Here.

C. M. Pyke, manager of the Barton opera house, returned yesterday from San Francisco where he has arranged for a dramatic circuit, including Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose and Fresno. The arrangement was made for the purpose of obtaining better terms from theatrical companies.

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

W. A. Jordan Sues Loty Myers and Others.

William A. Jordan brought suit in the superior court yesterday against Loty Myers, administratrix of the estate of G. W. Myers, to compel specific performance.

On October 22, 1888, allegee the plaintiff, G. W. Myers and Thomas Claytor became owners by joint purchase of the west ½ of the southeast ¼ of section 10, township 16 south, range 21 east.

They entered into a verbal agreement to partition the tract between them, Claytor to receive the northwest ¼ of said section 10, and Meyers the southeast ¼.

On October 30, 1888, Myers and Claytor executed a mortgage on the whole tract to O. J. Woodward to secure the payment of $2500 borrowed of him, and this mortgage is still a lien on those premises. Clay for promised to pay $1400 of this and Myers $1100.

Claytor made and delivered a deed to Loty Myers, administratrix, for the northwest ¼ of the southeast ¼ of section 10 on January 22, 1890, but no deed of conveyance was ever made by G. W. Myers to Claytor for the latter's portion of the tract, Myers dying before he could do so.

Twenty miles west of Fresno is an artesian well that yields natural gas. There is also a flow of gas from a well between Hanford and Huron.

Plaintiff purchased from Claytor his portion of the tract and made improvements to the value of $2200 on it in the way of buildings and cultivation, and claims it would be perpetrating a fraud upon him unless the contract mentioned be specifically enforced.

He therefore prays for judgment that the contract may be specifically enforced and the defendant adjudged to sell and convey to plaintiff the premises it was agreed between Claytor and Myers the former should have; also that a good and sufficient deed be made to plaintiff as assignee of said Claytor.

INTERESTING DATA

BEING COLLECTED BY ARTHUR I. STREET

For the Ethnological Department of the Columbian Exposition.

Arthur I. Street of Berkeley arrived in Fresno yesterday. Mr. Street is the California representative of the ethnological and archæological department of the Columbian Exposition, of which F. W. Putnam, professor of archæology and ethnology at Harvard, is the head.

The work Mr. Street is engaged in is very interesting and inquisitive. He is gathering data concerning the Indian tribes of this state, which will be used to illustrate their origin, tribal relations, mode of life, etc.

Mr. Street has just come from southern California, where he has completed his work and will leave this morning for Squaw valley and the mountains, to pursue his investigations among the tribes there.

The investigation he is required to make is very thorough. He takes the physical measurements of his subjects, makes a note of the color of their eyes' formation of nose, lips, mode of life, tribal relationship, physical alteration in half-breed stats, etc., etc.

It took Mr. Street two months to finish his work in Southern California. One of the most peculiar things he noticed was the remarkable difference between tribes located but a few miles apart, indicating the tenacity with which they cling to tribal purity and traditions. The Indians of the mountains, he says, have thinner noses than those who live on the plains.

During his tour of the state Mr. Street will collect objects illustrative of the mode of life of the Indians, which will be exhibited at the exposition.

From Squaw Valley he will go to Pine Ridge, then to Auberry valley, Fresno Flats, Mariposa, Inyo and Mono counties and up north to and through Oregon.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY

Have an Interesting Meeting at Sanger.

The Fresno county Farmers' Alliance meet in regular quarterly session at Sanger this afternoon for a two-days' meeting.

A full attendance of officers and delegates showed that the order is prosperous.

The forenoon was devoted to routine work.

Professor King, a strong Alliance leader, was in attendance, and took a portion of the afternoon to instruct the members more thoroughly in the secret work of the order.

The Alliance adjourned early to listen to an address by Mr. Bowman, state lecturer of the citizen's alliance, on the issues that lead to the formation of the People's party.

A happy feature of the day was the surprise given Mrs. Witten, the county secretary, the lady who has so faithfully served the Alliance in that official capacity during the last two years. A lady friend took her away with her to that most alluring of all places on earth to a real woman, a millinery store, and kept her there (of course) long enough to give the Alliance an opportunity of raising a plump purse of money, which was duly presented to her and gracefully received.

Chairman Fowler introduced, after this cheering performance, Mr. Bowman, who made an extended speech.

He was followed by Burnette Connoll, assistant state lecturer for the alliance, who made a very strong argumentative speech for so young a man.

Mr. King also spoke at some length, after which an adjournment was taken until evening, which session was also largely attended.

On account of the late hour at which THE REPUBLICAN reporter returned to this city the speeches delivered could not be printed this morning.

Occasional applications since have kept my hair thick and of a natural color."—H. E. Basham, McKinney, Texas.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is growing rapidly and is restored to its original color."—Mrs. A. Collins, Dighton, Mass.

PETTY BOODLEISM.

A CHINESE ALLEY WATERED BY THE CITY SPRINKLERS.

Also the Street in Front of a Grocery for Melons—Unsatisfactory Work.

People who reside in the neighborhood of Fresno and K streets have observed with some envy that the boy who drives the sprinkling cart in that neighborhood waters Fresno street in front of Bostick & Wakefield's grocery.

Fresno street is not a graded street, and is not included in the streets to be watered under the street contract. Hence, the taxpayers began to complain because this private work is being done with water that the city pays for, and in time also paid for by the taxpayers.

A member of the firm of Bostick & Wakefield was asked by a REPUBLICAN reporter yesterday how much he paid the city sprinkler for keeping the front of his place damp, cool and sweet.

"O, the boy sprinkles the street once in a while, and we give him a melon for doing it. That's all we pay him."

None of the alleys in the city is included in the contract, yet the Chinese alley between Mariposa and Tulare street is sprinkled regularly by the city sprinklers. If each Chinaman doing business in the alley gave the driver a melon, he would be able to stock a large fruit store in two or three days.

The crack investigating committee of the city trustees would do well to look into this Chinese alley matter, and ascertain whether there are any perquisities other than melons in the street sprinkling contract. The city pays for the water and the time of the drivers, and is entitled to all the water and all the time of the sprinklers.

This is a phase of petty boodleism that should be suppressed.

The work being done under the present contract is very unsatisfactory. Most of the sprinkling is done only on the crown of the street, while both sides are left unwatered. Hence, where there is much travel there is as much dust, as if the highway was not watered at all.
